welcome

Dear participants, dear colleagues,

On behalf of the International Corporate Governance Society (ICGS) and Miami Herbert Business School of the University of Miami, it is our pleasure to welcome you to the 8th Annual Conference of the International Corporate Governance Society.

ICGS is a non-profit, educational organization formed in 2014 to provide an academic forum for corporate governance scholars that enhances research, teaching, and consulting on corporate governance systems, practices, and outcomes throughout the global economy.

The ICGS annual conference is intended to provide a forum for international academics and policy makers to showcase and discuss the latest corporate governance research issues and practices.

The development of digital technologies, such as artificial intelligence, blockchains, cloud computing, and the Internet of Things, has not only transformed our lives but also changed the business landscape.

With Google, Facebook, Alibaba, Amazon, Tencent, and Apple becoming household names, there is no denying the importance of the digital economy propelled by the development of digital technologies.

Companies conduct businesses through online marketplaces, and stakeholders connect with one another through social media platforms. The digital era is characterized by the unprecedented power of platform companies, the importance of data to business successes, and the prevalent adoption of artificial intelligence technology. Yet, the digital transformation generates opportunities for firms to monetize new technologies, but also challenges for stakeholders, including employees, customers, and society at large, such as unemployment and the misuse of personal data. Corporate governance practitioners are faced with both challenges and opportunities in a digital era. Against this background, the theme of the conference is “Corporate Governance in a Digital Era: Challenges and Opportunities.”

The conference has two keynote speakers: Robert J. Jackson, Jr., a law professor at New York University and former SEC Commissioner, and Wei Jiang, a finance professor at Emory University. The conference also hosts two plenary panel discussions. One panel is on “Corporate Governance in a Digital Age,” and has Leslie Campbell (independent director), Nora Denzel (board member of AMD, NortonLifeLock, and Ericsson), Amy Hillman (professor at Arizona State University and board member of CDK Global and Basha’s), and Bob Zukis (Digital Directors Network) as panelists. The other panel is on “Artificial Intelligence and ESG” with Atiyah Curmally (Principal Environmental Specialist at IFC / ESG), Jana Oehmichen (Professor at JGU Mainz), Ulysses Smith (Senior Adviser for ESG at Debevoise & Plimpton LLP), and Yelena Yasha (Professor at University of Miami) as members of the panel. In addition, Ithai Stern (INSEAD) will offer three demonstration sessions for attendees to experience and learn virtual reality case studies in teaching.

We received close to 120 submissions of which over 80 papers will be presented during the conference.

During the conference, we will announce the winner and runner-up of the Best Paper Award. The Award committee, consisting of Alessandro Zattoni (LUISS University), Marc Goergen (IE Business School), Aleksandra Gregoric (Copenhagen Business School), Niels Hermes (University of Groningen), and Sun Hyun Park (Seoul National University) evaluates the five nominated papers. We are thankful for their contribution.

The main conference on 12-13 November is preceded by a paper development workshop, hosted by CGIR Co-Chief editors. More than 20 PhD students and early career scholars participate in this workshop, where they receive comments from senior CGIR Senior editors on their work.

We would like to thank the International Finance Corporation (IFC) of the World Bank Group, Diligent, Wiley, Governance and Principled Leadership Research Cluster of Miami Herbert Business School, for their generous financial contribution.

We are extremely happy to be able to welcome you in person in Miami and are looking forward to interesting and cutting-edge discussions on various topics in corporate governance. We wish you all a fruitful and insightful conference and a pleasant stay here in Miami.

Sincerely yours,
The conference organizers
Fabrizio Ferri and Wei Shi
